SERMON ON THE INFAMY OF FRANCE

A Powerful Discourse Sunday by Dr. J. B. Hawthorner

CRUEL TREATMENT OF DREYFUS.

The Pastor Rejoices That It Is Condemned by the Whole World-Mr. Garrison Resigns-Baptist Ministers Meet -Baptism.

Rev. Dr. J. B. Hawthorne preached two powerful and elequent sermons Grove-Avenue Baptist church Sunday, At the morning service more than 1,300 people heard him, and numbers were turned away for lack of room. His subject was: "Pliate and His Modern Imliators, the Judges in the Trial of Dreyfus." After a fearful arraignment of Pliate. the Roman Governor, for his disgraceful shortcomings in the trial of Jesus, he said:

'In the conduct of the five Frenchmen who constituted the court martial for the trial of Captain Dreyfus on the charge of treason to his country, we have, in many respects, a reproduction of the cowardice of Pontius Pilate. Perhaps it would be more just to say that their conduct was more dastardly than Pilate's, because, afmore dastardly than Pilate's, because, after he had examined the case of our Ls J and found him to be innocent, he proclaimed his innocence to the world. But the judges in the French courtmartial, without the faintest evidence of the guilt of Dreyfus, branded him with infamy to response to a popular clamor. In this famous case two verdicts have been rendered, one by the courtmartial, the other by the civilized world. The former will pass into history as the act of time-aervers and cowards, but the other will live and be lauded as long as the love of truth and fustice shall abide in human hearts.

be lauded as long as the love of truth and justice shall abide in human hearts.

BELLEVED HIM INNOCENT.

"If Dreyfus is guilty of treason against his country he richly deserves the severest penalty that the law prescribes. If the men who tried him believe him to be guilty, it is scarcely less than treason in them to commend him to the mercy of their government. The punishment which they awarded him shows that their secret conviction is that he is innocent, and that they have pronounced him guilty only to save themselves from the wrath of a fanatical populace.

fanatical populace.

"France must share the infamy of this court-martial because the majority of her people demanded the verdict that was rendered by that court. Her guilt is the more aggravated because this act of in-effable injustice was inspired by racial prejudice.

"If Dreyfus had not been of the faith he was, Dr. Hawthorne said, he would never have been charged with treason.
In religious tolerance and freedom France in religious currents and recommendation of the second of self of it she will be punished with the scorn and contempt which she so well

DESERVE REPROBATION.

"Archdishop Ireland in a recent official proclamation, deprecates the fearful reprobation which the virtue-loving elements of Europe and America are visiting upon France. I rejuice over it. It fills me with a gladiness that is unspeakable, because it indicates what our blessed Christianity has done in promoting the love of trath, purity and justice among the nations of the earth.

"If the movement should become world, wide and result in the utter defeat of the Paris Exposition and the downfall of the French Republic, the protest and punishment would not be more than commensurate with the corruption that has rendered possible the crime of that French contimation.

At hight Dr. Hawthorne preached on "The Deserted Betrayer." The progress of the sinner on the downward path was traced by the speaker. The hypocrisy of while with the disciples and cruel manner in which he was described him serve their purpose, and had lost caste, were dwelt upon

MR. GARRISON RESIGNS. At the Sunday morning service of the farshall-Street Christian church, Rev. JH. Marshall-Street Christian church, Rev. M. C. Garrison tendered his resignation as paster of this charge to accept a call to Danville. Ky. Mr. Garrison in a few words expressed his sorrow at leaving and his reasons for doing so, and said that although he would be engaged in other fields of labor, he would never forget his relations and pleasant associations with the congregation of Marshall-Street church.

Mr. Garrison's resignation will take effect on the lat of October at which time he will leave for his new charge.

Nothing has been said as yet as to who will succeed Mr. Garrison at Marshall-Street, and no action will be taken until near the first of the month.

The resignation of Mr. Garrison is great-ly deplored by his congregation, as he was greatly beloved by them, and was an enagetic and hard-working man, and his place will be filled with difficulty. BAPTIST MINISTERS.

YOUNG SWINDLER.

Imposed Upon the Ladies of the Retreat for the Sick.

A young man, giving the name of Edwards, imposed upon the ladies of the Retreat for the Sick some days ago, and ise upon the public. He called upon Mrs. Wm. A. Jenkins, president of the board, and stated that he represented a "Mandolin Club," which desired to give an entertainment for the benefit of the Retreat for the Sick. He further said that the club had a rival in the shape of another mandolin club, and that his club simply wanted to give this toncert to show to the world that his club was a better one than the other. They wanted none of the proceeds, and money that was eleated was to go to

The young man was so polite and straightforward in his manner that Mrs. Jonkins was favorably impressed, and she requested him to call to see her at the Retreat when she would have the mem-brs of the Board meet him and discuss

The ladies were very grateful that he should have thought of helping them in this way, and they watched the papers for announcements of "the great concert." No announcements were made, however, and they thought that the "Mandolin Club" had given up the idea. Last Saturday, however, a bill for the printing of 500 tickets for the entertainment was presented at the Retreat, when the ladies began to realize that something must be on Thursday night a number of ladies

On Thursday night a number of ladies and gentlemen went to Belvidere Hail, having purchased tickets for the entertainment, but they found the doors locked, and could find no one who knew anything about the concert. The same thing was true on Friday night.

Then it was discovered that no arrangaments had been made for a concert, No one had rented the hail, or even been to see about it. A large number of tickets had been sold. A young woman is said to have been one of those who discoved of the fickets. She sold a large number, principally to business men. principally to business men.

A KISSING SCENE. Passengers on an Excursion Train En joyed It. Considerable laughter was occasioned by a kissing scene which took place on board the excursion train shortly before it left the Norfolk and Western depot in Norfolk yesterday. Several persons on the platform noced a handsome young couple in the ont seat of one of the cars who were ngaged in close conversation and I negged in close conversation and it eesmed from the way in which they gazed no each other's eyes that they did not xpect to see each other again.

Almost every passenger in the car had its or her attention called to the couple and were easerly awaiting the closing act when the train should move off. Shortly before the time of departure the young man rose from his seat and stood a moment in conversation with the young lady, their faces being dangerously close. Suddenly he reached down and taking her onin in his hand, kissed her on the lips. He seemed to enjoy it, as he continued the osculatory process until he had taken six of these sweetmeats for his own. At this time an urchin in the rear of the car catled out: "Say there; ring off." The young gentleman obeyed and rang off ite did not seem to notice the remark and stood talking to the g.rl, but he must nave been very hungry, as he reached down and took three more kisses before he left, making nine in all.

The people in the car were in a giggle by this time, and the young man went out. He could not tear himself away, but out.
